Chartwell Law Adds General and Commercial Liability Attorney

Philadelphia, PA, September 24, 2018 – Chartwell Law added general and commercial liability attorney Shahenaz Y. Yates to the firm's Philadelphia, PA, office.

Yates focuses her practice on general and commercial liability matters. She has experience defending commercial entities, as well as individuals, in complex litigation cases involving issues relating to premises liability, motor vehicle liability, products liability, construction accidents, construction defects, housing discrimination, dram shop liability and asbestos matters. She also handles insurance coverage work. Prior to joining the firm, Yates was an attorney at a Philadelphia litigation firm where she handled similar matters.
