

Chartwell Law Further Expands Into New England

May 16, 2016

The Chartwell Law Offices, LLP announced today its expansion of client services in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire with the addition of its newest partner, David A. Brosnihan.

Mr. Brosnihan is a magna cum laude graduate of Providence College and received his J.D. from Suffolk University. His primary practice areas are first and third party coverage litigation, product and professional liability claims, and employment litigation. He will join Chartwell's office in Boston, MA on May 15, 2016.

Chartwell now has 15 offices throughout the Eastern United States, and its 115 attorneys provide clients with a full array of legal services.

"I've worked with Dave on a number of challenging cases in Rhode Island and Connecticut. I've been impressed with his skills and found that he has a commitment to client service and continuous client communications similar to our Chartwell approach. I'm thrilled to now have Dave with us as we continue to grow our New England practice", noted Chartwell partner John Wutz.

Chartwell now represents major national retailers, insurance carriers and self insured entities in Florida, Tennessee, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire. "Many of our clients are trying to reduce the number of firms being used nationwide to gain efficiency and to gain more consistency and predictability in the way legal services are delivered. As Chartwell continues to expand its reach, it remains focused on creative litigation strategies and continuous client communications", noted Chartwell Founding Partner Thomas Strohmets.
